Researcher Conflicts of Commitment in Research and Sponsored Program Activities

01. POLICY STATEMENTS

- 01.01 This policy relates to the participation of Researchers (see Section 03. Definitions) in outside activities or employment that may conflict with their primary research commitment to the University and to its research mission.
- 01.02 Expansion of the research mission is a critical priority as Lamar University moves into the future. Promoting public good by fostering the transfer of knowledge gained through research to the private sector is vital to this mission.
- 01.03 Lamar University recognizes and even encourages its Researchers to be involved in professional and other outside activities (e.g., consulting, guest lecturing, serving in professional and community organizations, etc.) when such activities enhance the Researcher's professional discipline and do not conflict with their primary commitments to the University.
- 01.04 Lamar University recognizes it is not practical or desirable to define strict time and location restrictions on how Researchers meet their primary professional commitments due to the nature of University-related educational, research, service and related activities. It is expected, however, that Researchers will arrange any external activities they may engage in so as not to interfere with their commitment to the University and to its research mission.
- 01.05 Thus it may be necessary to disclose and question the extent of such involvement or the appropriateness of certain activities to determine if conflicts of commitment related to Research and Sponsored Programs Activities exist. This policy is intended to provide guidance to individual Researchers in identifying and avoiding possible problems in this area.

02. SCOPE OF POLICY

- 02.01 This policy is in conjunction with the Lamar University's Faculty Handbook, Chapter II, Section 39, Policy on Additional Employment of Faculty and Academic Administrators (Conflict of Interest) but pertains only to Conflicts of Commitment in Research and other Sponsored Activities.
- 02.02 This policy applies to all Researchers and pertains to the period of their University contracts (nine-month, twelve-month, or other) and the percent time they are paid by the University. For Researchers on a less than twelve-month contract, it is not the concern of the University how those Researchers spend the balance of non-contract time as long as they do not conflict with their obligations to the University or do not reflect unfavorably on the University.
- 02.03 No more than 20% of a Researcher's total professional effort during the period of time that is normally required to meet the primary obligation may be directed to outside work.
- 02.04 As a rule, Researchers should not take on substantial teaching or other commitments in another educational institution. Exceptions would include guest lecturing, participating in invited seminars, and similar activities.

- 02.05 Researchers should not engage in external activities that are not consistent with good professional practices; that impose restrictions on the freedom to publish University-based work; or that involve any significant use of University facilities, materials, services, personnel, or restricted University information without specific advance written permission.
- 02.06 The Chief Research Officer may appoint a University-wide committee to address specific concerns or other unique circumstances arising from conflicts of commitment in Research and Sponsored Programs.
